Chapter 1

Lessons

1.1 Introduction

Sonja Lang created the language Toki Pona in the year 2001. Her aim was minimalism. Toki Pona consists of only about 120 words, which are not altered. In accordance with the position in the sentence, the words can vary their significance. To describe more detail you have to combine words.

It is not the goal of Toki Pona to describe complex issues. Dissertations and scientific papers will never be written in Toki Pona. Lawyers, bureaucrats, theologians and politicians are warned of the side-effect of this language.

It is not the aim of Toki Pona to solve the communication problems in the world. But you can learn this language in a month. Toki Pona is easy in an intelligent way and yoga for the brain. People who hate nested subordinate clauses and commas will certainly have fun with Toki Pona.

Maybe only one natural language can be compared to Toki Pona. It is the language of the Pirahá ([17]). For example this language has no recursion.

Toki Pona has evolved since 2001. Therefore these lessons are based on the tutorials from BJ Knight (jan Pije) [11] (2003) and the official Toki Pona book [15] by Sonja Lang (2014). But I tried not to take over mistakes and inaccuracies. In my lessons, great importance is attached to the presentation of grammatical rules. This avoids misunderstandings due to incorrect grammar.

So have fun with the lessons and learning of Toki Pona. Memrise helps for learning vocabulary [16]. Links related to Toki Pona can be found on the website [19]. A dictionary can be found here [19].

You can use the tool Toki Pona Parser ([20]) for spelling, grammar check and ambiguity check of Toki Pona sentences

1.2 Alphabet, Punctuation Marks

Consonants

Except for j, all the consonants are pronounced like in English. j is always pronounced just like the letter y.

n	net
p	pit
s	sink
t	too
w	wet
j	yet

Vowels

Toki Pona's vowels are quite unlike English's.

Toki Pona's vowels are quite unlike English's. Whereas vowels in English are quite arbitrary and can be pronounced many different ways depending on the word, Toki Pona's vowels are all regular and never change pronunciation. If you're familiar with Italian, Spanish, Esperanto, or certain other languages, then your work is already done. The vowels are the same in Toki Pona as they are in these languages.

The More Advanced Stuff

All official Toki Pona words are never capitalized. They are lowercase even at the beginning of the sentence! The only time that capital letters are used is when you are using unofficial words, like the names of people or places or religions.

Special Characters

.	separator : A declarative sentence ends with a full stop.
!	separator : An imperative or an interjection sentence ends with an exclamation mark.
?	separator : An questions always ends in a question mark.
:	separator : A colon is between an hint sentences and a sentences.
,	separator : A comma is used after an 'o' to address people. Optionally, it can be inserted before a preposition.

Separators

In these lessons, special characters are referred to as separators. Separators separate phrases from each other. For example, a dot separates a sentence from the next sentence. In Toki Pona there are also special words which serve as separators. In other lessons these words are also called 'particles'.

Types of Sentences

Like many languages, Toki Pona has different types of sentences.

Most sentences are declarative sentences and end with a period. Declarative sentences make statements or assumptions.

Question sentences are interrogative sentences that formulate a question. They end with a question mark.

Imperative sentences are sentences that formulate a command. They end with an exclamation mark.

Exclamatory sentences (interjections) are sentences that express admiration or astonishment. This also includes greetings. They end with an exclamation mark or a period.

Headlines (titles) are usually not complete sentences and do not end with a punctuation mark.

Please always pay attention to correct punctuation marks. Wrong or missing punctuation marks impair the intelligibility.

telo (e ...)	verb transitive : to water, to wash with water, to put water to, to melt, to liquify
,	unofficial : An apostrophe can identify a predicate that does not contain a verb.

The Ambiguity of Toki Pona

Do you see how several of the words in the vocabulary have multiple meanings? For example, suli can mean either 'long', 'tall', 'big', 'important' or 'the size'. By now, you might be wondering, 'What's going on? How can one word mean so many different things?'

Welcome to the world of Toki Pona! The truth is that lots of words are like this in Toki Pona. Because the language has such a small vocabulary and is so basic, the ambiguity is inevitable. However, this vagueness is not necessarily a bad thing. Because of the vagueness, a speaker of Toki Pona is forced to focus on the very basic, unaltered aspect of things, rather than focusing on many minute details.

Another way that Toki Pona is ambiguous is that it can not specify whether a word is singular or plural. For example, jan can mean either 'person' or 'people'. If you've decided that Toki Pona is too arbitrary and that not having plurals is simply the final straw, don't be so hasty. Toki Pona is not the only language that doesn't specify whether a noun is plural or not. Japanese, for example, does the same thing.

Toki Pona has no Tenses. The verbs don't change. If it's absolutely necessary, there are ways of saying that something happened in the past, present, or future.

As you can see in the vocabulary list, most words can be used in different word types. They remain unchanged. The word type is derived from the position in the sentence. In this lesson, we will deal with nouns, pronouns, verbs, adjectives and a special separator.

A noun is a word for a person, place or thing. An adjective is a word that describes a noun. A verb describes an action.

Pronouns are proxies for different types of words. They are used in the same place as the word to be represented and have the same grammatical characteristics as this one. Pronouns are not words of content, but they denote persons or things by referring to the context. Personal pronouns (I, you, ...) represent nouns. Possessive pronouns (my, your, ...) represent adjectives. In the next few lessons we will learn more about other types of pronouns.

The Personal Pronouns mi or sina as Subject

With the personal pronoun mi or the personal pronoun sina at the beginning and a subsequent verb a simple sentence in Toki Pona is already complete. A declarative sentence ends with a full stop. Toki Pona has no nested subordinate clauses and nearly no commas.

mi moku.		I eat.
sina pona.		You fix.

In these sentences personal pronouns mi and sina are in each case the subject phrase. In Toki Pona, a subject phrase is always at the beginning of the sentence. In these examples, the subject phrases consist of only one subject (mi or sina).

The subject is the carrier of the action, process or state. It is the most important addition to the verb in the sentence, a complete sentence always contains a subject. You ask for the subject with whom or what.

Verbs as Predicates

The verbs moku and pona form the predicate phrase in these examples. The predicate is a core element in a sentence and is the statement of the sentence. No statement sentence is possible without a predicate.

In most languages, a predicate is formed by a verb, but this is not mandatory in all languages. As we will soon see, in Toki Pona the predicate is not necessarily formed by a verb. The difference between verb and predicate is that verb designates a word part and predicate designates a grammatical function. A predicate and possible objects form a predicate phrase.

Nouns or Adjectives as Predicates

One of the first principles you'll need to learn about Toki Pona is that there is no form of the static verb 'to be' like there is in English. That's why the verb slot can be empty and after mi or sina can follow also a noun or adjective. In these lessons, the term 'slot' is used to indicate a valid position of a word type in the sentence.

Regular sentences can also be formed in other languages without a verb appearing in them. Examples are Russian and Arabic. These languages are called no-copula languages.

A copula is a word that connects the subject and predicate ('copulates'). If a 'normal' verb is the predicate, one does not need an additional copula. It occurs only if a noun, pronoun or adjective is the predicate. In English the verb 'to be' serves as the copula. No-copula language, like Toki Pona, does not require a copula.

A noun then functions as a predicate noun or an adjective serves as predicate adjective. But this noun or adjective does not become a verb. An empty verb slot cannot, however, form a predicate phrase on its own. A noun or adjective must follow. That is, directly after mi or sina the sentence cannot be finished yet.

In no-copula languages, the word form usually indicates whether the predicate is a verb, noun or adjective. This is not possible in Toki Pona. In these lessons an apostrophe is used to indicate a subsequent noun or adjective. But that's not an official rule.

mi moku.	I eat.
mi ' moku.	I am food.
sina pona.	You fix.
sina ' pona.	You are good.

Because Toki Pona lacks 'to be', the exact meaning is lost. moku in this sentence could be a verb, or it could be a noun; just as pona could be an adjective or could be a verb. In situations such as these, the listener must rely on context. After all, how often do you hear someone say 'I am food.'? I hope not very often! You can be fairly certain that mi moku means 'I'm eating'.

The Separator li

For sentences that don't use the personal pronouns mi or sina as the subject, there is one small catch that you'll have to learn. Look at how li is used. li is a grammatical word that separates the subject phrase from the predicate phrase. The predicate marker li is only used when the subject is not mi or sina. Although the separator li might seem worthless right now, as you continue to learn Toki Pona you will see that some sentences could be very confusing if li weren't there.

telo li pona.	Water is cleaning.
suno li suno.	The sun is shining.
moku li ' pona.	The food is good.
ona li ' moku.	It is food.

Is the verb slot empty, after li can follow a noun or adjective as well. As already written, an empty verb slot cannot form a predicate phrase on its own. A noun or adjective must follow. That is, directly after li the sentence can not yet be finished or an object can follow.

Transitive Verbs, the Separator e and Direct Objects

We saw how phrases such as mi moku could have two potential meanings. 'I'm eating' or 'I am food'. There is one way to specify that you want to say.

mi moku e kili.		I eat fruit.
------------------------	--	--------------

Also we discussed how sina pona, like mi moku, has two possible meanings. 'You are good' or 'You're fixing'. Normally, it would mean 'You are good' simply because no one really says 'I'm fixing' without actually telling what it is that they are trying to fix.

ona li pona e ilo.		She's fixing the machine.
mi pona e ijo.		I'm fixing something.

Only a (composite) verb can stand in front of the e. More specifically, it is a slot for a transitive verb. Transitive verbs are verbs after which a direct object (accusative object) can stand. A transitive verb does something to the direct object.

The separator e preface the direct object. An object is an optional record supplement. A direct object is most strongly influenced by the action (i. e. the predicate). You can ask for direct object (accusative object) by 'Who' or 'What' ('What does she repair?'). The direct object is part of the predicate phrase.

In the direct object is the first slot after the separator e always a noun or pronoun slot. In the above examples the noun slots were filled with kili and ijo.

Reflexive Pronouns

A reflexive pronoun represents the subject in the direct object. So a slot for a reflexive pronoun is located after the separator e. In the following example, ona is a reflexive pronoun, since it refers to the subject jan.

jan li telo e ona.		A person washes himself.
---------------------------	--	--------------------------

In this sentence the first mi is a personal pronoun. The mi after the e is a reflexive pronoun.

mi telo e mi.		I wash myself.
----------------------	--	----------------

Here a sentence with sina as personal and reflective pronouns

sina telo e sina.		You wash yourself.
--------------------------	--	--------------------

Here a sentence with ona as personal and reflective pronouns

ona li telo e ona.		She washes herself.

Compound Sentences

There are two ways to make compound sentences in Toki Pona; one way involves using li, and the other way involves using e. Since you've now studied both of these words, we'll cover how to use both of them to make compound sentences.

Several li Separators for Several Predicate Phrases

It is possible to use the separator li several times in a sentence. Each separator li starts a new predicate phrase. This allows you to assign several actions or properties to one subject.

ona li ' pona li unpa.		He's awesome and has sex.
------------------------	--	---------------------------

In the next example the separator li is still omitted before moku because the subject of the sentence is the personal pronoun mi, we still use it before the second predicate, pakala. Without the separator li there, the sentence would be chaotic and confusing. Compound sentences with personal pronoun sina as subject follow this same pattern.

mi moku li pakala.		I eat and destroy.
--------------------	--	--------------------

Predicate phrases are not nested. You can change the order.
 ona li moku li ' pona. = ona li ' pona li moku.

Each predicate phrase can of course contain direct objects.

mi moku e moku li lukin e ma.		I eat the food and look at the landscape.

The official Toki Pona book recommends to use only one predicate phrase for the personal pronouns mi or sina as subject.

Several e Separators for Several direct Objects

For the other type of compound sentences, one predicate phrase has several direct objects. In other words, the action of a transitive verb refers to several things.

mi moku e kili e telo.		I eat/drink fruit and water.
mi wile lukin e ma e suno.		I want to see the land and the sun.

e phrases are not nested. You can change the order.
 mi moku e moku e telo. = mi moku e telo e moku.

We can combine several li and e. We have two predicate phrases with two direct objects each. However, it is better to use several short sentences.

mi moku e kili e telo li lukin e ma e jan. I eat fruits and water and see land and people.

1.5 Verbs, Adverbs, Auxiliary Verbs

Vocabulary

...ike	adjective : bad, negative, wrong, evil, overly complex
...ike	adverb : bad, negative, wrong, evil, overly complex
ike	noun : negativity, badness, evil
ike	verb intransitive : to be bad, to suck
ike (e ...)	verb transitive : to make bad, to worsen
...jaki	adjective : dirty, gross, filthy, obscene
...jaki	adverb : dirty, gross, filthy
jaki	noun : dirt, pollution, garbage, filth, feces
jaki (e ...)	verb transitive : to pollute, to dirty
...lawa	adjective : main, leading, in charge
...lawa	adverb : main, leading, in charge
lawa	noun : head, mind
lawa (e ...)	verb transitive : to lead, to control, to rule, to steer
...lili	adjective : small, little, young, a bit, short, few, less
...lili	adverb : small, little, young, a bit, short, few, less
lili	noun : smallness, youth, immaturity
lili (e ...)	verb transitive : to reduce, to shorten, to shrink, to lessen
...mute	adjective : many, very, much, several, a lot, abundant, numerous, more
...mute	adverb : many, very, much, several, a lot, abundant, numerous, more
mute	noun : amount, quantity
mute (e ...)	verb transitive : to make many or much
...sewi	adjective : superior, elevated, religious, formal
...sewi	adverb : superior, elevated, religious, formal
sewi	noun : high, up, above, top, over, on
sewi	verb intransitive : to get up
sewi (e ...)	verb transitive : to lift
...tomo	adjective : urban, domestic, household
...tomo	adverb : urban, domestic, household
tomo	noun : indoor constructed space, e.g. house, home, room, building
tomo (e ...)	verb transitive : to build, to construct, to engineer
...utala	adjective : fighting
...utala	adverb : fighting
utala	noun : conflict, disharmony, fight, war, battle, attack, violence
utala (e ...)	verb transitive : to hit, to strike, to attack, to compete against

Adverbs

Adverbs refer to the circumstances in which an action takes place. Since actions are described by verbs, adverbs describe verbs. For example, in the phrase 'You sing well.' the verb 'singing' is described in more detail with the adverb 'well'.

In Toki Pona adverbs follow the verb they describe. Possible adverb slots are therefore only available after verbs. Adverbs cannot therefore stand after nouns, adjectives, prepositions or separators.

Since verbs belong to the predicate phrase, adverbs also belong to the predicate phrase. In toki pona a predicate phrase can contain a noun as predicate noun or an adjective as predicate adjective. In this case the verb slot is empty, so there are no adverb slots in such a predicate phrase.

In this sentence the transitive verb lawa with adverb pona is described.

mi lawa pona e jan.		I lead people well.

mi utala ike.		I fight badly.
sina lukin sewi e suno.		You look up at the sun.
ona li wile mute e ni.		He wants that a lot.
mi lukin lili e ona.		I barely saw it.

You should not use more than three adverbs after a verb. An adverb should not be used more than once.

ona li pona ike mute e ilo.		He was very bad at fixing the machine.
mi mute lukin mute e ma.		I'm visibly increasing the size of the country.

Auxiliary Verbs

An auxiliary verb is placed in front of the main verb and supplements it. An auxiliary verb belongs to the predicate phrase.

To say that you want to do something definite, use the auxiliary verb wile.

mi wile lukin e ma.		I want to see the countryside.
mi wile pakala e sina.		I must destroy you.
ona li wile jo e ilo.		He would like to have a tool.
sina kama e ni: mi wile moku.		You caused this: I want to eat.
		You made me hungry.

Very often the auxiliary verb kama is used together with the main verb jo.

kama jo		get
mi kama jo e telo.		I got the water.

Adjectives

We had already got to know predicate adjectives as part of a predicate phrase. A predicate adjective describes the noun of the subject phrase. In this example, the predicate adjective pona in the predicate phrase describes the noun jan in the subject phrase.

jan li ' pona.		The person is good.

Generally speaking, one can say that adjectives describe nouns. As in other languages, adjectives can also be written directly with the noun. In Toki Pona the adjectives come after the noun to be described are written. This is exactly the opposite in English, but in other languages, such as Italian, this is normal. Possible adjective slots are therefore located directly after nouns slots and, as described above, predicate adjectives in the predicate phrase. Noun slots are possible at the beginning of a subject phrase, at the beginning of a predictive phrase as predicate phrases, and in object phrases. This means that adjective slots are possible in subject phrases and predictive phrases. Adjectives are comparable with adverbs but in toki pona some more complex. The noun jan is described here with the adjective pona.

----------	--	----------------------

A friend is nothing but a good person. Since Toki Pona has a very small vocabulary, we often have to combine nouns with adjectives to say a certain term. Here are further examples.

jan pakala		an injured person, victim, etc.
ilo moku		an eating utensil (fork/spoon/knife)

You should not use more than three adjectives after a noun. One adjective should not be used more than once.

jan utala		soldier
jan utala nasa		stupid soldier
jan utala nasa mute		many stupid soldiers

As you might have noticed, mute as adjectives come at the end of the phrase. The reason for this is that the phrases build as you go along, so the adjectives must be put into an organized, logical order. Notice the differences in these two phrases.

jan nasa utala		fighting fool

Here are some handy noun adjective combinations using words that you've already learned and that are fairly common.

ike lukin		ugly
pona lukin		pretty, attractive
jan ni li pona lukin		That person is pretty.
jan ike		enemy
jan lawa		leader
jan lili		child
jan sewi		saint, God, Flying Spaghetti Monster
jan sulì		adult
jan unpa		lover, prostitute
ma telo		mud, swamp
ma tomo		city, town

mi mute	we, us
ona mute	they, them
telo nasa	alcohol, beer, wine
tomo telo	restroom
ilo suno	flashlight

Several predicate adjectives are also possible. However, it is usually not possible to distinguish between a predicate noun at the first position in the predicate phrase and a predicate adjective. While mute in this example can only be an adjective, pona can be an adjective or a noun.

jan li ' pona mute.	Man is very good. / The human being is the many good things.

Gender

Toki Pona doesn't have any grammatical gender like in most Western languages. However, some words in Toki Pona (such as mama) don't tell you which gender a person is, and so we use mije and meli to distinguish.

mama	a parent in general (mother or father)
mama meli	mother
mama mije	father

Possessive Pronouns

A possessive pronoun expresses a property or affiliation and is placed after the corresponding (composite) noun. This means that for a noun with adjectives, the possessive pronoun is placed after the adjectives. For a noun without adjectives, the possessive pronoun is located after the noun. In these examples are mi, sina and ona possessive pronouns.

tomo pona mi	my nice house
ma sina	your country
telo ona	his/her/its water

The Demonstrative Pronoun ni

The demonstrative pronoun is a kind of word with which the speaker refers to an item of conversation. The demonstrative pronoun ni can be used both like an adjective and like a noun. A slot for an adjective demonstrative pronoun is therefore possible after a noun.

jan ni li pona.	This bloke is good.
jan li lukin e ijo ni.	The guy's looking at this thing.

A noun demonstrative pronoun is used instead of the noun. Slots for noun demonstrative pronouns therefore correspond to the positions of noun slots in the sentence.

ni li pona...	This is good.
jan li lukin e ni.	The guy looks at that one.

Indirect Objects and Intransitive Verbs

We've already learned about direct objects. A direct object is most strongly influenced by the action (i. e. the transitive verb). You can ask for direct object (accusative object) by 'Who' or 'What' ('What does she repair?'). But, in the sentence, 'I am in the house.' is 'in the house' an indirect object because you can't ask for it by 'Who' or 'What'. It is also not directly influenced by the predicate. A indirect object is part of the predicate phrase also. In the indirect object is the first slot always a noun or pronoun slot. After that, optional slots for adjectives, possessive pronouns and demonstrative pronouns are possible.

We've already learned transitive verbs. A transitive verb does something to the direct object. On the other hand, verbs that do not affect an object are called intransitive verbs. An intransitive verb is followed by either no object or an indirect object. In the sentences, 'I am.' and 'I am in the house.' is 'am' an intransitive verb. There is no e between intransitive verb and indirect object.

The intransitive verb lon means 'to be there' or 'to exist'. Since there is no other predicate before lon there must be a verb lon.

suno li lon sewi.		The sun is in the sky.
kili li lon poki.		The fruit is in the basket.
mi lon tomo.		I'm in the house.

The intransitive verb kepeken means 'to use'.

mi kepeken ilo.		I'm using tools.
sina wile kepeken ilo.		You have to use tools.
mi kepeken poki ni.		I'm using that cup.

In some other lessons the transitive verb kepeken is used. This is surely because with 'What' you can ask for the object after kepeken. As however the object is not directly influenced by the verb kepeken, it is an indirect object and kepeken an intransitive verb.

The intransitive verb kon means 'to breathe'.

jan ni li kon ike.		This person is breathing badly.
--------------------	--	---------------------------------

In contrast, the transitive verb kon means 'to blow away something'.

mi kon e ilo suno.		I blow out the candle.
--------------------	--	------------------------

The intransitive verb kama means 'to come' or 'to arrive'.

pona li kama.		The good will come.
---------------	--	---------------------

The intransitive verb pakala means 'to screw up', 'to fall apart' or 'to break'.

tomo ni li pakala.		This house is falling apart.
--------------------	--	------------------------------

The intransitive verb sewi means 'to get up'.

mi sewi.		I get up.

Intransitive Verbs, Adverbs and Auxiliary Verbs

We have learned that a verb can be modified by an adverb. This of course also applies to intransitive verbs. In this example, the adverb mute modifies the intransitive verb lon.

mi lon mute tomo.		I'm often in the house.
-------------------	--	-------------------------

An intransitive verb can of course be preceded by an auxiliary verb.

mi wile lon tomo.		I want to be in the house.

Prepositional Objekts and Prepositions

The third object class in toki pona is the prepositional object. A prepositional object begins with a preposition. A preposition describes a relationship between other words in a sentence and stand in front of nouns or pronouns. It is closely connected to the predicate. The preposition determines the case. The question of the prepositional object depends on the preposition used. In Toki Pona is a slot for prepositions only at the beginning of a prepositional object. It is recommended that you put a comma before a preposition. But that's not an official rule.

In the prepositional object is the first slot after the preposition always a noun or pronoun slot. After that, optional slots for adjectives, possessive pronouns and demonstrative pronouns are possible. In Toki Pona there is an optional prepositional object at the end of a sentence. Possible direct or indirect objects are always in front of a prepositional object. Like the other object types, a prepositional object is an optional part of a predicate phrase.

The preposition kepeken means 'with' or 'using'.

mi moku, kepeken ilo moku.	I eat using a fork/spoon/ any type of eating utensil.
mi lukin, kepeken ilo suno.	I look using a flashlight.

The preposition lon means 'be (located) in/at/on'.

mi moku, lon tomo.	I eat in the house.
mi telo e mi, lon tomo telo.	I bathe myself in the restroom.

Since there is both preposition lon and the intransitive verb lon, the statement of the following sentences may be confusing.

mi wile lon tomo.	I want to be at home. / I want in a house.
-------------------	--

The sentence has at least two possible translations. The first translation states that the speaker wishes he were at home. The second translation states that the speaker wants to do something in a house. After a comma here only the preposition lon is possible.

mi wile, lon tomo.	I want in a house.
--------------------	--------------------

When you say, 'I want to be home.' you have to divide the sentence with a colon into two sentences.

mi wile e ni: mi lon tomo.	I want this: I'm at home.
----------------------------	---------------------------

Toki Pona often uses this e ni: trick. Before and after the colon has to be complete sentences. Toki Pona has no nested subordinate clauses.

sina toki e ni, tawa mi: sina moku.	You told me that you are eating.

In the last sentence there is the preposition tawa after the comma.

mi toki, tawa sina.	I talk to you.
ona li lawa e jan, tawa ma pona.	He led people to the good land.
ona li kama, tawa ma mi.	He's coming to my country.

In the following sentences the first tawa is an intransitive verb. The second tawa is a preposition and initiates the prepositional object.

mi tawa, tawa tomo mi.	I'm going to my house.
ona mute li tawa, tawa utala.	They're going to the war.

sina wile tawa, tawa telo suli.		You want to go to the ocean.
ona li tawa, tawa sewi kiwen.		She's going up the rock.

In the following sentences the first tawa is an transitive verb. The second tawa is a preposition.

mi tawa e mi, tawa tomo mi.		I'm moving myself to my house.
mi tawa e kiwen, tawa sewi.		I'm moving the rock to the peak.

In Toki Pona, to say that you (don't) like something, we have pattern, and the pattern use tawa as a preposition. This is done according to the pattern 'it is good to me' or 'it is bad to me'.

ni li 'pona, tawa mi.		That is good to me. / I like that.
ni li 'ike, tawa mi		That is bad to me. / I don't like that.
kili li 'pona, tawa mi.		I like fruit.
toki li 'pona, tawa mi.		I like talking. / I like languages.
utala li 'ike, tawa mi.		I don't like wars.
telo suli li 'ike, tawa mi.		I don't like the ocean.
pipi li 'ike, tawa mi.		I hate spiders.
ali li 'pona, tawa mi.		Everything's fine to me.
ma ali li 'pona, tawa mi.		All nations are good to me..

Toki Pona does not use clauses. So for example, if you wanted to say 'I like watching the countryside,' it's best to split this into two sentences.

mi lukin e ma. ni li 'pona, tawa mi.		I'm watching the countryside. This is good to me.
--------------------------------------	--	---

Of course, you could choose to say this same sentence using other techniques.

ma li pona lukin.		The countryside is good to look at.
-------------------	--	-------------------------------------

The preposition tawa can also mean 'for'.

mi pona e tomo, tawa jan pakala.		I fixed the house for the disabled man.
----------------------------------	--	---

There are ambiguities since tawa can also be used as an adjective. tawa is used as an adjective to make the phrase we use for 'car', 'boat' or 'airplane'.

tomo tawa		car (moving construction)
tomo tawa telo		boat, ship
tomo tawa kon		airplane, helicopter

Consider the following sentence.

After 'mi pana e tomo', both an adjective slot and a preposition slot are possible.

With the adjective tawa the sentence means 'I gave your car.'. With the preposition tawa, however, the sentence means 'I gave the house to you.'. You can insert a comma before tawa to force only a slot for preposition. It is better to split the sentence.

mi jo e tomo tawa sina. mi pana e		I have your car. I give it to you.
ni li tomo. mi pana e ni tawa sina.		This is a house. I give it to you.

In this set the intransitive verb kama and die preposition tawa is used.

ona li kama, tawa tomo mi.		He came to my house.
----------------------------	--	----------------------

The preposition sama means 'like', 'as' or 'seem'.

ona li lukin, sama pipi.		He looks like a bug.
--------------------------	--	----------------------

On the other hand, directly after the separator li no preposition can follow. There would be no predicate. The adjective sama is used here as a predicate adjective.

jan ni li ' sama mi.		That person is like me.
----------------------	--	-------------------------

The preposition tan means 'from', 'by', 'because of' or 'since'.

mi moku, tan ni: mi wile moku.		I eat because I'm hungry.

Indirect Objects vs. Prepositional Objects

Neither indirect objects nor prepositional objects are directly influenced by the predicate. Prepositional objects are therefore a special form of indirect objects. In the following example the indirect object ilo ni is used with the intransitive verb kepeken.

mi pona e tomo tawa. mi kepeken ilo ni.		I repair the car. I use this tool.
--	--	------------------------------------

It is possible to formulate the statement shorter and more clearly, if the preposition kepeken the prepositional object ilo ni introduces.

mi pona e tomo tawa, kepeken ilo ni.		I repair the car with this tool.
--------------------------------------	--	----------------------------------

However, if one absolutely wants to use this tool, one must use the intransitive verb kepeken. Auxiliary verbs can only be used with verbs and not with prepositions. Before the intransitive verb kepeken auxiliary verb wile is used here.

mi pona e tomo tawa. mi wile kepeken ilo ni.		I repair the car. I want to use this tool.

Consider the intransitive verb tawa.

mi tawa sina.		I'll go to you. / I'll leave you.
---------------	--	-----------------------------------

This sentence is ambiguous. After mi here both a noun (predicate noun) and an adjective slot (predicate adjective) is possible.

mi tawa sina.		I am your movement.
---------------	--	---------------------

It is better to use a prepositional object. If, as recommended in these lessons, a comma is placed before the preposition, the sentence becomes clearer.

mi tawa, tawa sina.		I'll visit you.
mi tawa, tan sina.		I'll leave you.

It is also possible to formulate the sentence with the reflexive pronoun mi as a direct object. The first tawa is here a transitive verb. The second tawa is a preposition.

mi tawa e mi, tawa sina.		I move towards you.
--------------------------	--	---------------------

... sinpin	adjective : facial, frontal, anterior, vertical
sinpin	noun : face, foremost, front, wall, chest, torso

The Spatial Nouns anpa, insa, monsi, noka, poka, sewi and sinpin

In Toki Pona relative location information is formed with special nouns. These special nouns are called 'spatial nouns'. In addition to the noun, adjectives, possessive pronouns or demonstrative pronouns are required for the relative location information.

A spatial noun is preceded by either an intransitive verb or a preposition. This means that relative location information is either in an indirect object or a prepositional object and is therefore part of a predicate phrase.

Spatial Nouns in an Indirect Object

Usually the intransitive verb lon or preposition lon is used before spatial nouns. If there is no verb before lon, lon cannot be a preposition. In these examples the intransitive verb lon is used.

pipi li lon anpa mi.	The bug is underneath me.
telo suli li lon monsi mi.	The sea is behind me.
moku li lon insa mi.	Food is inside me.
ma li lon noka mi.	Land is under my feet.
ona li lon sewi mi.	He is in my above, i.e. he is above me.
tomo li lon sinpin mi.	The house is in front of me.

Spatial Nouns in a Prepositional Object

The following examples contain a verb. Hence, preposition lon is used.

mi moku, lon poka sina.	I'm eating beside [or with] you.
ona li pona e ilo, lon tomo ona.	He repairs the tools in his house.

In this sentence the second tawa is a preposition and stands before the spatial noun noka.

mi tawa e mi, tawa noka sina.	I bow before you.

Negation

Sentence elements are negated by ala.

The Adverb ala

In English, you make a verb negative by adding 'not' in front of the verb. In Toki Pona you put the adverb ala after the verb.

mi lape ala.	I'm not sleeping.
mi musi ala.	I'm not having fun. / I'm bored.
mi wawa ala.	I'm not strong. / I'm weak.
mi wile ala tawa musi.	I don't want to dance.
tawa musi	dance (move entertainingly)
mi wile ala pali.	I'm lazy.

The Adjective ala

jan ala li toki.	Nobody is talking.
------------------	--------------------

The Noun ala

ala li 'jaki.	Nothing is dirty.

Yes/No Questions with ala

Yes/No questions are formed in toki pona according to a simple pattern. ala is appended to the part of the sentence that is asked for and the part of the sentence is repeated. As a rule, this part of the sentence is the entire predicate (sentence statement). The rest of the sentence structure does not change. A question is ended with a question mark.

An Intransitive Verb as Subject of the Question

If the yes/no question refers to an intransitive verb, the adverb ala is appended to it and the intransitive verb is repeated. Consider the following example.

sina tawa, tan mi.	You're leaving me.
--------------------	--------------------

If we want to ask 'Are you leaving me?', we append the adverb ala to the intransitive verb tawa. Then we repeat the intransitive verb tawa.

sina tawa ala tawa, tan mi?	Are you leaving me?
-----------------------------	---------------------

Here are more examples.

ona li lon ala lon tomo?	Is he in the house?
sina kepeken ala kepeken ilo?	Are you using the tool?
pona li kama ala kama?	Is the good coming?
sina sewi ala sewi?	Are you getting up?

A Transitive Verb as Subject of the Question

If the yes/no question refers to a transitive verb, the adverb ala is appended to it and the transitive verb is repeated.

sina pona ala pona e ilo?	Are you fixing the tool?
sina pana ala pana e moku tawa jan lili?	Did you give food to the child?
pipi li moku ala moku e kili?	Are the bugs eating the fruit?
ona li mama ala mama e sina?	Does she mother you?

An auxiliary verb as Subject of the Question

As we have learned, the auxiliary verb and the verb together form the predicate. If the yes/no question refers to an auxiliary verb, then the adverb ala is not attached to the predicate, but directly to the auxiliary verb. Only the auxiliary verb is repeated. Then the verb follows.

sina wile ala wile moku?	Do you want to eat?
sina ken ala ken lape?	Can you sleep?
sina kama ala kama jo e pali ni?	Did you get this job?

An Predicate Noun as Subject of the Question

We had already learned the difference between verb and predicate. In Toki Pona are sentences without verb possible. Then nouns serve as predicate nouns or adjectives as predicate adjectives.

In the lessons of B. J. Knight (2003) and the official Toki Pona book of Sonja Lang [15] yes/no questions with ala are defined only with verbs. But this contradicts their own examples as well as common practice. For example one cannot formulate the question 'Is she a mother? In these lessons I will therefore not adhere to this limitation.

If the yes/no question refers to a predicate noun, the adjective ala is added to it and the predicate noun is repeated.

ona li ' mama ala ' mama ?	Is she a parent?
ni li ' jan ala ' jan?	Is this a person?
ni li ' kili ala ' kili?	Is this a banana?
ni li ' tomo pi telo nasa ala ' tomo pi telo nasa?	Is this a pub?
ona li ' jan pi pona lukin ala ' jan pi pona lukin?	Is she an attractive person?

An Predicate Adjective as Subject of the Question

If the yes/no question refers to a predicate adjective, the adjective ala is added to it and the predicate adjective is repeated.

sina ' pona ala ' pona?	Are you OK?
mi ' pona ala ' pona, tawa sina?	Do you like me?
sunu li ' suli ala ' suli?	Is the sun big?
len sina li ' telo ala ' telo?	Are your clothes wet?

Yes/No Answering

If you want to say 'yes', you simply repeat the predicate or the auxiliary verb of the sentence. If you want to say 'no', you repeat the predicate or the auxiliary verb and add ala after it.

sina wile ala wile moku?
wile ala

Do you want to eat?
Yes.
No.

sina lukin ala lukin e kiwen?
lukin
lukin ala

Do you see the rock?
Yes.
No.

sina sona ala sona e toki mi?
sona
sona ala

Do you understand what I'm saying?
Yes.
No.

ni li ' tomo pi telo nasa ala ' tomo
pi telo nasa?
tomo pi telo nasa.
tomo pi telo nasa ala.

Is this a pub?
Yes.

Names are Adjectives

Names of persons, countries, cities, languages and ideologies do not exist as official words in Toki Pona. Names are unofficial words and do not appear in the dictionary of Toki Pona. Unofficial words are adjectives. You know adjectives describe nouns. This means that names also describe nouns and cannot be used without a corresponding noun in the record. This is necessary to recognize what the name stands for. For example, if it is a country name, the corresponding adjective is used after the noun ma. As we already know there are adjective slots after a noun or after the separator li as a slot for a predicate adjective. Names also fit into these slots. Unofficial words can only be adjectives and not adverbs. As can be seen again, in Toki Pona adjectives are more complex than adverbs. In order to recognize names as unofficial words, they always begin with a capital letter. If the original spelling of the name is used, place it in quotation marks.

Unofficial words can be adapted to the phonetic rules of Toki Pona. The appendix (see page 145) describes how to proceed. For example, America becomes Mewika, Canada becomes Kanata. In the appendix you will find a list of important unofficial words (see page 141).

Countries

After the noun ma an unofficial word (adjective) is used as the country name.

ma Kanata li 'pona.	Canada is good.
ma Italiya li 'pona lukin.	Italy is beautiful.
mi wile tawa, tawa ma Tosi.	I want to go to Germany.

Since unofficial words are adjectives, they can also be used as predicate adjectives.

ma mi li 'Tosi.	My homeland is Germany.

Continents

Continents are formed with the ma, optionally the adjective suli and the corresponding unofficial word (adjective).

ma suli Apika	Africa
---------------	--------

Cities

As we have learnt the combination of the noun ma and the adjective tomo mean 'city'. After this combination, an unofficial word (adjective) is used as a city name.

ma tomo Lantan li 'suli.	London is big.
ma tomo Pelin	Berlin
ma tomo Loma	Rome
mi kama, tan ma tomo Pelin.	I'm from Berlin.

Here is an example of an unofficial word as predicate adjective.

ma tomo mi li 'Pelin.	My homecity is Berlin.

Languages

If you want to talk about a language, you simply use the noun toki and then attach the unofficial word (adjective) onto it.

toki Inli li ' pona.	The English language is good.
ma Inli li ' pona.	England is good.
toki Kanse	French language
toki Epelanto li ' pona.	Esperanto ist einfach.

Here is an example of an unofficial word as predicate adjective.

toki mi li ' Tosi.	My mother tongue is German.
--------------------	-----------------------------

Residents of a Country

A resident of a country is named by nouns jan, meli or mije and the unofficial word (adjective).

jan Kanata	Canadian person
jan Mesiko	Mexican person
meli Italiya	Italian woman

Persons

Now suppose you want to talk about someone using their name. For example, what if you want to say 'Lisa is cool'? To say a person's name in Toki Pona, you just say the noun jan and then the person's name.

jan Lisa li ' pona.	Lisa is cool.
---------------------	---------------

Like for the names of countries, we often adapt a person's name to fit into Toki Pona's phonetic rules. Keep in mind that no one is going to pressure you to adopt a tokiponized name; it's just for fun.

jan Pentan li pana e sona, tawa mi.	Brandon teaches to me.
jan Mewi li toki, tawa mi.	Mary's talking to me.
jan Nesan li ' musi.	Nathan is funny.
jan Eta li ' jan unpa.	Heather is a whore.
pana e sona	to teach (give knowledge)

This is the way to say your name.

mi ' jan Pepe.	I am Pepe.
nimi mi li ' Pepe.	My name is Pepe.

Nobody is forcing you to use a name in Toki Pona style. This is pure fun.

mi ' jan "Robert".	I'm Robert.

Ideologies, Religions

Ideologies and religions are named with the noun nasin, the adjective sewi and the corresponding unofficial word (adjective).

nasin sewi Patapali	Pastafari
---------------------	-----------

pakala!	interjection : damn! fuck!
pona!	interjection : great! good! thanks! OK! cool! yay!
toki!	interjection : hello, hi, good morning,

Vocativ (Addressing People)

Sometimes you need to get a person's attention before you can talk to him. When you want to address someone like that before saying the sentence, you just follow this same pattern. jan (name) o, (sentence). Note the comma behind the interjection word o.

jan Ken o, pipi li lon len sina.	Ken, a bug is on your shirt.
jan Keli o, sina 'pona lukin.	Kelly, you are pretty.
jan Mawen o, sina wile ala wile moku?	Marvin, are you hungry?
jan Tepani o, sina 'ike, tawa mi.	Steffany, I don't like you.

Commands

The command form (imperative) is introduced with o and ends with an exclamation mark. The interjection word o is the subject here.

o pali!	Work!
o awen!	Wait!
o 'pona!	Be good!
o lukin e ni!	Watch this!
o tawa, tawa ma tomo, lon poka jan pona sina!	Go to the city with your friend!

We've learned how to address people and how to make commands; now let's put these two concepts together. Suppose you want to address someone and tell them to do something. Notice how one of the o's got dropped, as did the comma.

jan San o, ...	John, ...
... o tawa tomo sina!	... go to your house!
jan San o tawa tomo sina!	John, go to your house!
jan Ta o toki ala, tawa mi!	Todd, don't talk to me!
jan Sesi o moku e kili ni!	Jessie, eat this fruit!.

The separator o replaces the separator li. After the personal pronouns mi and sina also the separator o is used.

sina o telo e sina!	Wash yourself!
---------------------	----------------

This structure can also be used to make sentences like 'Let's go'.

mi mute o tawa!	Let's go.
mi mute o 'musi!	Let's have fun.

Interjections

animal!noise An interjection sentence makes conveys excitement. Interjections sentences often consist only of a noun or an interjection word, e. g. a, and end with an exclamation mark.

jan Lisa o, toki!	Hello Lisa!
pona!	Yay! Good! Hoorah!
ike!	Oh no! Uh! oh! Alas!
pakala!	F-ck! D-mn!

a!	Ooh, Ahh! Unh! Oh!
a a a!	Hahaha! (laughter)

The interjection word a adds emotion or stress. It can be used at the end of a sentence. Use the Interjektion-Word a sparingly!

sina 'suli a!	You are so tall!
---------------	------------------

The interjection words o and a only used when the person makes you feel really emotional. For example, if you haven't seen a person for a long time or if you have sex and you still speak perfect Toki Pona.

jan Epi o a!	Oh Abbie!
--------------	-----------

Salutations

The second group of interjections are kind like salutations. They usually consist of a noun, an optional adjective and an exclamation mark.

toki!	Hello!, Hi!
suno pona!	Good sun! Good day!
lape pona!	Sleep well! Have a good night!
moku pona!	Good food! Enjoy your meal!
mi tawa	I'm going. Bye!
tawa pona!	(in reply) Go well! Good bye!
kama pona!	Come well! Welcome!
musi pona!	Good fun! Have fun!

They can also consist of a complete sentence with an exclamation mark.

jan Lisa o, toki!	Hello Lisa!
mi tawa	I'm going. Bye!

... suwi	adjective : sweet, cute
suwi	noun : candy, sweet food
suwi (e ...)	verb transitive : to sweeten

The Question Pronoun seme

We talked about how to ask questions that can be answered with a 'yes' or 'no'. However, we didn't talk about questions that require more in-depth answers. Well, to ask questions like these in Toki Pona, we have to use the question pronoun (interrogative pronoun) seme. As you know, pronouns are proxies for different types of words. The question pronoun seme replaced the word or the part of a sentence which is inquired. Depending on in what slot(s) seme is used, it can represent different kinds of words or parts of sentences. Separators cannot be represented by a question pronoun seme. At a question with seme the sequence of word slots does not change.

Pardon?

If with the question pronoun seme a complete question is made, nothing was understood.

seme?		Pardon?

Who/What – Subject

At questions who or what the subject is, in its place the question pronoun seme is put in the sentence. As you know this is the first position in the sentence.

seme li utala e sina?		Who/What attacked you?
seme li moku e kili mi?		Who/What is eating my fruit?
seme li lon poka mi?		Who/What is beside me?
seme li lon tomo mi?		Who/What is in my house?
seme li ' pona, tawa sina?		Who/What do you like?

What / Where – direct Object

At questions on direct object (recipient of action) the question pronoun seme is used at the position of the direct object. To simplify matters, we are taking a step-by-step approach. Here's a statement:

sina lukin e pipi.		You're watching a bug.
--------------------	--	------------------------

Now we're going to turn that sentence into a question.

sina lukin e seme?		What are you watching?
--------------------	--	------------------------

Here the question pronoun seme represents the noun pipi. The word order of the sentence does not change even when the sentence is a question.

sina pakala e seme?		What did you hurt?
ona li jo e seme?		What does he have?

What – Indirect Object

If the question pronoun seme is used after an intransitive verb, one asks for an indirect object.

sina kepeken seme?		What are you using?
--------------------	--	---------------------

What – Prepositional Object

If the question pronoun seme is set after a preposition, a question (what) is possible for the prepositional object.

sina pali e ni, kepeken seme?		What did you use to work on this?
-------------------------------	--	-----------------------------------

How

If the question pronoun seme is in a prepositional object after the preposition kepeken and the noun nasin, then arises a how-question.

sina pali e ni, kepeken nasin seme?		How did you make this?
-------------------------------------	--	------------------------

Why

The preposition tan and the question pronoun seme are used to formulate 'why'. Both words form a prepositional object here.

sina kama, tan seme?		Why did you come?
----------------------	--	-------------------

Who(m)

At questions on one person the question pronoun seme represents an adjective after the noun jan.

jan seme li moku?		Who is eating?
jan seme li tawa, lon poka sina?		Who went with you?
sina lukin e jan seme?		Whom did you see?
sina toki, tawa jan seme?		Whom are you talking to?

At questions on things the question pronoun seme represents adjective after the corresponding noun.

ma seme li 'pona, tawa sina?		Which countries do you like?
sina kama, tan ma seme?		Which country do you come from?

The only reason that this concept might seem difficult is because you're tempted to move the word orders around, because many languages (including English) do it. One neat little trick you can do to check a translation is to think of the question as a plain statement, and then replace the question pronoun seme with the pronoun ni.

Miscellaneous

The Noun supa

supa means any type of horizontal surface or furniture.

supa		table, chair, sofa, ...
supa lape		bed

The Noun suwi

The noun suwi means 'candy' or some other type of sweet food.

mi wile e suwi!		I want a cookie!
-----------------	--	------------------

The Adjective suwi

The adjective suwi means 'sweet' or 'cute'. It don't mean that it's sexy, attractive, or anything like that.

jan lili sina li ' suwi.		Your baby is cute.
telo kili ni li ' suwi.		This fruit drink is sweet.

The Adjective sin

The adjective sin means 'another' or 'more'.

jan sin li kama.		More people are coming.
mi wile e suwi sin!		I want another/more cookie(s)!

The Noun olin

The noun olin means 'the love' (to) a person.

olin sina li ' pona, tawa mi.		Your love is good for me.
-------------------------------	--	---------------------------

The Adjective olin

meli olin ona li ' pona lukin.		His wife is pretty.
--------------------------------	--	---------------------

The Transitive Verb olin

The transitive verb olin means 'to love'. However, it only refers to affectionate love, like loving people. For example, you might olin your girlfriend or your parents.

mi olin e sina.		I love you.
-----------------	--	-------------

You can't olin things or objects. Then the familiar pattern is used:

ni li pona tawa mi.		I like this.

1.14 Compound Nouns

Vocabulary

... kalama	adjective : noisy, loud, rowdy
kalama	noun : sound, noise, voice
kalama	verb intransitive : to make noise
kalama (e ...)	verb transitive : to sound, to ring, to play (an instrument)
... kulupu	adjective : communal, shared, public, of the society
kulupu	noun : group, community, society, company, people
kulupu (e ...)	verb transitive : to assemble, to call together, to convene
... pi ...	separator: 'pi' is used to build complex compound nouns. 'pi' separates a (pro)noun from another (pro)noun that has at least one adjective. After 'pi' could only be a noun or pronoun. Don't use 'pi' before or after the other separators 'e', 'la', 'li', 'o', '.', '!', '?', ':'.

The Separator pi

So far we have learned how to combine a single noun with adjectives. Adjectives stand after the noun. This is exactly the opposite of the English language. These possibilities are not sufficient for many terms. The English language knows compound nouns consisting of several nouns. In toki pona this is also possible. It is possible to combine several nouns including their adjectives. However, the order is exactly the opposite here as in the English language. The main noun in English is at the end of the compound noun. For example the compound noun 'toothbrush'. Here 'brush' is the main noun. After all, it is a brush and not a tooth.

In toki pona the main noun is at the beginning. This is followed by the supplementary nouns and their adjectives. The separator pi serves to separate these supplementary nouns and to mark them as nouns. After the separator pi must follow at least two words. For example pi + noun + adjective or pi + pronoun + adjective. That is, after the separator pi only a noun or pronoun slot is possible.

General examples

Now, you might remember that tomo telo ('water room') is used to mean 'restroom'. You should also recall that nasa means 'crazy', 'silly', 'stupid', and so on. Now, let's look at this sentence.

mi tawa, tawa tomo telo nasa.		I went to the crazy restroom.

Okay, I think you'll agree with me when I say that that is just plain weird. It makes me think about some creepy restroom with neon lights lining the floor and a strobe light in every toilet stall. Now, the person who said this sentence had actually been trying to say that he had gone to a bar. As you probably recall, telo nasa is used to mean 'alcohol'. So, a tomo with telo nasa would be a 'bar'. The only problem is that you can't fit tomo and telo nasa together, because it will mean 'crazy restroom,' as you just studied. The only way to fix this problem is to use the separator pi.

mi tawa, tawa tomo pi telo nasa.		I went to the pub.
----------------------------------	--	--------------------

We're going to go over a bunch of examples using pi; but, you need to be familiar with some of the compound noun combinations that we've learned.

jan pi ma tomo		a city-dweller
kulupu pi toki pona		the Toki Pona community
nasin pi toki pona		the ideology behind Toki Pona
jan lawa pi jan utala		commander, general
jan lawa pi tomo tawa kon		a pilot
jan pi nasin sewi Kolisu		a Christian jan pi pona lukin		an attractive person
jan pi ike lukin		an ugly person
jan utala pi ma Losi li ike, tawa ma ali.		Soldiers of Russia are bad for the world.

Possessives

In Toki Pona also compound nouns are used to identify property. If you wanted to say 'my house' you say tomo mi. Similarly, 'your house' is tomo sina. If you want to name a specific person who owns the house, you have to use the separator pi.

tomo pi jan Lisa	Lisa's house
kili pi jan Susan	Susan's fruit
ma pi jan Keli	Keli's country
len pi jan Lisa	Lisa's clothes

Also, if you want to use the plural pronouns you have to use the separator pi.

nimi pi mi mute	our names
tomo pi ona mute	their house

Opposites

Composite nouns are also used to formulate the opposite of a word or group of words. The separator pi, the word or group of words and the adjective ala is used. This could change the word type. In the first examples wawa is a adjective. But after the separator pi only a noun or pronoun slot is possible. So wawa can only be a noun here.

jan wawa	a strong person
jan pi wawa ala	a person with weakness, a weak person
jan wawa ala	No strong people.

Whose

A compound noun is also used for questions of ownership. In this case after the separator pi follows a noun jan and the question pronoun seme as representative of adjective.

ni li tomo pi jan seme?	Whose house is this?
-------------------------	----------------------

Are multiple pi phrases possible for a compound noun?

The English language knows compound nouns consisting of more than two nouns. For example, the word 'open source software'. Here too, the last noun is the main noun. After all, it is software.

Neither B. J. Knight's Lessons nor Sonja Lang's official Toki Pona book defines the use of multiple pi phrases for a compound noun. Nevertheless several pi phrases for a main noun are often used. This is similar to the other separators li and e. (Multiple predicate phrases (li) belong to one subject. Several direct objects (e) belong to one predicate. Accordingly, all further pi phrases are associated with the first noun. So pi phrases are not nested. You can change the order. However, the meaning can change. But, you should avoid several pi phrases if you can. In the next lesson we will learn a way to avoid several pi phrases.

kulupu pi kalama musi pi ma Inli li pona.	The English rock band is good.
---	--------------------------------

kulupu pi ma Inli pi kalama musi li pona.		The English rock band is good.

Common mistakes with pi

The lessons of B. J. Knight as well as the official Toki Pona book by Sonja Lang define the use of pi to separate noun groups. The use of pi to separate verb/adverb groups is not defined. Unfortunately, some beginners make the mistake of using pi to separate verb/adverb groups. This is naturally confusing, since pi can also be used to uniquely identify nouns.

The separator pi must not stand together with the separators li or e. Some people make mistakes by placing pi directly before or after li. This is like putting a comma directly before or after a point.

After the separator pi have to be at least two words. The word immediately after the separator pi is a noun or pronoun, followed by an adjective.

jan pi wawa pi pona mute li kama.		Wrong!

The pi before wawawa is wrong. Right is:

jan wawa pi pona mute li kama.		A strong, very good man is coming.
--------------------------------	--	------------------------------------

Another mistake is that people use the Separator pi when they should use the preposition tan.

mi kama, tan ma Mewika.		I come from America.
-------------------------	--	----------------------

Do not separate adjectives, numbers or verbs by pi.

At the beginning the separator pi is unfamiliar. But it helps to understand a sentence.

A pi shows that after the pi can only be a noun or pronoun.

The Noun kalama

The noun kalama ('sound' or 'noise') is usually combined with the adjective musi.

kalama musi		music, song
kalama musi li 'pona, tawa mi.		I like music.

The noun kalama and the adjective musi precedes the names of specific songs.

kalama musi 'Jingle Bells' li 'pona,		I like the song 'Jingle Bells'.
tawa mi.

And we can use the separator pi to talk about music by a certain group or artist.

kalama musi pi jan Elton-John li 'pona,		Elton John's music is odd.

The Noun kalama

The Intransitive Verb kalama

The intransitive Verb kalama means 'to make noise'.

o kalama ala!		Don't make noise!
---------------	--	-------------------

The Transitive Verb kalama

The transitive Verb kalama means 'to sound', 'to ring' or 'to play (an instrument)'.

mi kalama e kalama musi, kepeken ilo.		I make music with an instrument.

Conjunctions

Conjunctions connect words and phrases. Conjunctions have similar tasks to prepositions. In toki pona there are conjunctions anu (or), en (and) and taso (but, however).

Alternative-questions with the Conjunction anu

The conjunction anu is used to make alternative-questions. The alternative-question is the combination of two (or rarely more) choices. In the following questions there is a choice between two subjects. Between these subjects there is the conjunction anu.

jan Susan anu jan Lisa li moku e suwi?	Susan or Lisa ate the cookies?
ona anu jan ante li ' ike?	Is he bad, or is it the other person who's bad?

In the following question the decision is made between two direct objects.

sina jo e kili anu telo nasa?	Do you have the fruit, or is it the wine that you have?
-------------------------------	--

In the following question, the decision is made between two prepositional objects. The preposition is only used once.

sina toki, tawa mi anu ona?	Are you talking to me, or are you talking to him?
-----------------------------	--

Answer-Questions with the conjunction anu

In answer-questions is the answer already included in the question. A confirmation or denial is expected as an answer. In English there is the saying '... or what?' or '... isn't it?'. In Toki Pona answer questions are formed by adding the conjunction anu and the question pronoun seme after the statement.

sina kama anu seme?	Are you coming or what?
sina wile moku anu seme?	Do you want to eat or what?
sina wile e mani anu seme?	Do you want the money or what?

Yes/No questions with predicate nouns or predicate adjectives

We had learned that yes/no questions with the adverb ala require a verb. That there is no verb in Toki Pona, the verb slot can remain empty. The predicate is then formed by a predicate adjective or predicate adjective. Yes/no questions with the adverb ala are not possible. To form yes/no questions with predicate nouns or predicate adjectives anu seme is used. A answer-question is therefore formulated.

sina ' pona anu seme?	Are you OK (or what)?
ona li ' mama anu seme?	Is she a mother (or what)?

Declarative Sentences with the Conjunction anu

The conjunction anu can be used in declarative sentences also.

mi lukin e mijē anu meli.

I see a man or a women.

The Conjunction en Connects Nouns and Pronouns

The conjunction en is used to connect two (composite) nouns or pronouns. In the following examples, one subject is formed in each case.

mi en sina li ' jan pona.

You and I are friends.

jan lili en jan sulī li toki.

The child and the adult are talking.

kalama musi en meli li ' pona, tawa

I like music and girls.

The conjunction en can be used with the separator pi to form complex compound nouns. With en you can avoid several pi phrases. Such complex nouns are unknown in many languages. In the first sentence jan lili pi jan Ken en jan Lisa is one complex noun.

jan lili pi jan Ken en jan Lisa li ' suwi.

Ken and Lisa's baby is sweet.

tomo pi jan Keli en mijē ona li sulī.

The house of Keli and her boyfriend is big.

Note that en is not used to connect two whole sentences, even though this is common in English. Instead, use the multiple-li technique (Page 18) or split the sentence into two sentences.

Also note that en is not intended to connect two direct objects. For that, use the multiple-e technique (Page

The Conjunction taso

If you use the conjunction taso at the beginning of a sentence you refer to the previous sentence. Separate these sentences not with a comma, but with a full stop. Also do not use a comma after the conjunction taso. This mistake is usually made by people who are native English speakers.

mi wile moku. taso mi jo ala e moku.

I want to eat. But I don't have food.

mi wile lukin e tomo mi. taso mi lon

I want to see my house. But I'm in a different country.

mi ' pona. taso meli mi li ' pakala.

I'm okay. But my girlfriend is injured.

A conjunction at the beginning of a sentence

As we have just learned, the conjunction taso can be at the beginning of a sentence. So a slot for a conjunction is possible at the beginning of a sentence. Such a conjunction does not connect main clauses. Otherwise no period would end the sentence before it. With such a conjunction, the sentence refers to the previous sentence.

A: mi wile moku.

I want to eat.

B: en mi wile moku kin.

And I want to eat too.

The Adjective taso

jan Lisa taso li kama. mi sona e ni taso.	Only Lisa came. I know only that. (That's all I know.)
--	---

The Adverb taso

mi musi taso. mi pali taso. mi lukin taso e meli ni!	I'm just joking. I just work. (All I ever do is work.) I only looked at that girl!
--	--

kin ni li kama, tawa suno.	This fact comes to light.
----------------------------	---------------------------

The Adjective kin

The adjective kin is at the end of an adjective group and emphasizes it.

jan pona mi kin li lon ni.	My good friend is here.

The Adverb kin

The adverb kin is at the end of an adverb group and emphasizes it.

A: mi tawa, tawa ma Elopa. mi tawa kin e mi, tawa ma Elopa. A: mi mute o tawa. B: mi ken ala. mi moku kin e moku. A: a! sina lukin ala lukin e ijo nasa ni? B: mi lukin kin e ona.	I went to Europe. I went to Europe too. Let's go. I can't. I'm still eating the food. Whoa! Do you see that weird thing? I see it indeed.

Temperatures

As nouns seli mean 'heat' and lete 'cold'. The adjectives lilili and mute relativize these nouns. We can use these words to express weather temperatures. lon is here an intransitive verb.

seli li lon.	It's hot.
lete li lon.	It's cold.
seli mute li lon.	It's very hot.
seli lili li lon.	It's warm.
lete mute li lon.	It's very cold.
lete lili li lon.	It's cool.

The Intransitive Verb pilin

If one wants to describe the temperature of an object, one uses seli or lete as predicate nouns.

ilo ni li ' lete mute , tawa mi. ni li ' seli lili, tawa mi.	This axe feels very cold. This feels warm.
---	---

When one freezes or sweats, one says this with the intransitive verb pilin and the adverbs seli and lete.

mi pilin lete mute.		I'm very cold.
---------------------	--	----------------

The intransitive verb pilin can generally describe feelings of a person or an animal.

mi pilin pona.		I feel good. / I feel happy.
mi pilin ike.		I feel bad. / I feel sad.
sina pilin seme?		How do you feel?

The Transitive Verb pilin

The transitive pilin means 'to think'.

mi pilin e ni: sina ike.		I think this: You're bad.
sina pilin e seme?		What are you thinking?
mi pilin e ijo.		I'm thinking (about) something.
mi pilin e meli ni.		I'm thinking about that woman.

Vocabulary

...jelo jelo	adjective : yellowish, yellowy noun : yellow, light green
...kule kule kule (e ...)	adjective : colourful, pigmented, painted noun : color, colour, paint, ink, dye, hue verb transitive : to paint, to color

...sitelen ...sitelen sitelen sitelen (e ...)	adjective : figurative, pictorial, metaphorical, metaphorisch adverb : pictorially noun : picture, image, representation, symbol, mark, writing verb transitive : to draw, to write
...walo walo walo (e ...)	adjective : white, whitish, light-coloured, pale noun : white thing or part, whiteness, lightness verb transitive : to whiten, to whitewash

Color Combinations

A Shade of Colour

In Toki Pona there are no words for the colors purple, green, grey, etc. But you can create colors from several words. One uses one of these nouns jelo, laso, loje, pimeja or walo. Then use these adjectives jelo, laso, loje, pimeja, or walo.

laso loje li ' pona, tawa mi.	Purple (reddish blue) is my favourite colour.
laso jelo li ' pona, tawa mi.	Green (yellowish blue) is my favourite colour.
loje jelo li ' pona, tawa mi.	Orange (yellowish red) is my favourite colour.
loje walo li ' pona, tawa mi.	Pink (whitish red) is my favourite colour.
walo pimeja li ' pona, tawa mi.	Grey (dark white) is my favourite colour.

It is also possible to form colors from a noun and several adjectives. The goal of Toki Pona is however the simplicity. Therefore, avoid complex word compositions.

laso loje li ' pona, tawa mi.	Purple is my favourite colour.
loje laso li ' pona, tawa mi.	Purple is my favourite colour.

Colors are usually used as adjectives because they describe nouns. The adjectives loje and laso describe the noun len here.

len loje laso mi li ' pona, tawa mi.	I like this purple t-shirt.

Samples in Several Shades of Colour

Suppose that you have a shirt that have pattern with different colors (red and blue). However, you can't call it len loje laso, because that means 'purple shirt'. The colours must be separated grammatically. Each color of the pattern is described with a noun and optional adjectives. To separate these color nouns with their adjectives we use the conjunction en. To separate the patterned item from its colours the separator serves pi. len, loje and laso are nouns here.

len ni pi loje en laso li ' pona, tawa mi.	I like this red and blue patterned t-shirt.
tomo pi jelo en loje pi meli Susan en mije jan Ken li ' nasa, tawa mi.	Susan and Ken's yellow and blue patterned house looks strange.

The Noun kule

The noun kule means 'color'.

ni li ' kule seme?		What color is that?
--------------------	--	---------------------

The Adjective kule

The adjective kule means 'colourful', 'pigmented' or 'painted'.

len kule li ' pona, tawa mi.		I like the colourful dress.
------------------------------	--	-----------------------------

The Transitive Verb kule

mi kule e lipu		I dye the dress.

The Noun sitelen

The noun sitelen means 'picture' or 'image'.

sitelen tawa		movie, TV show
sitelen tawa 'Fahrenheit 9/11' li		I like the movie 'Fahrenheit 9/11'.
pona, tawa mi.
sitelen tawa 'Bowling for		The movie 'Bowling for Columbine' is also good.
Columbine' li pona kin.
sitelen ma		map
o pana e sitelen ma, tawa mi.		Give me the map.

The Adjective sitelen

The adjective sitelen means 'figurative', 'pictorial', 'metaphorical' or 'metaphorisch' or 'written down'.

toki sitelen li ' pona, tawa jan ali.		Written language (writing) is good for all people.

The Transitive Verb sitelen

The transitive verb sitelen means to 'draw' or to 'write'.

mi sitelen e sitelen, lon lipu.		I draw the picture on paper.

The Adverb sitelen

ona li toki sitelen e ni.		She says this very figuratively.

Numbers Are Adjectives

Numbers can only be adjectives and not adverbs. As can be seen again, in Toki Pona adjectives are more complex than adverbs.

Cardinal Numbers

There are only few number words in Toki Pona. However, with adjectives ala, wan, tu, luka, mute and ale numbers can be formed.

wan	1
tu	2
tu wan	$2 + 1 = 3$
tu tu	$2 + 2 = 4$
luka	5
luka wan	$5 + 1 = 6$
luka tu	$5 + 2 = 7$
luka tu wan	$5 + 2 + 1 = 8$
luka tu tu	$5 + 2 + 2 = 9$
luka luka	$5 + 5 = 10$
luka luka wan	$5 + 5 + 1 = 11$
luka luka tu	$5 + 5 + 2 = 12$
luka luka tu wan	$5 + 5 + 2 + 1 = 13$
luka luka tu tu	$5 + 5 + 2 + 2 = 14$
luka luka luka	$5 + 5 + 5 = 15$
mute wan	$20 + 1 = 21$ (Is rarely used.)
ali tu	$100 + 2 = 102$ (Is rarely used.)

When numbers used together with other adjectives, numbers are inserted at the end. Only possessive pronouns can used after numbers to build compound nouns. You can insert unofficially a # before numbers.

jan # luka tu	7 people
jan lili # tu wan	3 children

As you can see, it can get very confusing if you want to talk about numbers higher than 14 or so. However, Toki Pona is simply not intended for such high numbers. It is a simple language. There are also natural languages that do not have larger numbers. For example the language of the Pirahá ([17]).

Amounts

With the conjunction en it is possible to connect (compound) nouns or pronouns. This can also be used to calculate totals.

kili tu en kili wan li ' kili tu wan.	Two apples and one apple are three apples.
kili tu tu en kili wan li ' kili seme?	Two apples and one apple is how many apples?
kili seme en kili wan li ' kili # luka	Five apples minus one apple are how many apples?

Numbers as Predicate Adjectives

ali li ' seme?	The Ultimate Question of Life, the Universe and Everything.
ni li ' # mute mute tu.	The answer is 42.

This philosophical answer from 'The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy' shows that numbers can also be predicate adjectives.

Use the Adjective mute for Large Numbers.

The method that you're about to learn for making higher numbers should be avoided as much as possible. We use the adjective mute ('many') for large numbers.

Of course, this is still pretty vague. The adjective mute in the above sentence could mean 3 or it could mean 3 000. Fortunately, mute is just an adjective, and so we can attach other adjectives after it. We have learned that you should not repeat a word. The adjectives mute and lili are exceptions some people repeat it up to three times to represent higher numbers. This is not a good style. Better is to use mute kin.

More than likely, that sentence is saying that at least a thousand people are coming. Now suppose that you had more than two people but still not very many. Let's say that the number is around 4 or 5. Here's how you'd say that.

jan mute lili li kama.		A small amount (of) people are coming.

Ordinal Numbers

If you understood how the cardinal numbers work, the ordinal numbers only require one more step. Like I said, if you understood the cardinal numbers, it's easy because you just stick the adjective nanpa in between the noun and the number.

jan nanpa tu tu		4th person
ni li jan lili ona nanpa tu.		This is her second child.
meli mi nanpa wan li ' nasa.		My first girlfriend was crazy.

The Noun wan

The noun wan means 'unity' or also 'marriage'.

mi en meli mi li ' wan.		My girlfriend and I got married.
-------------------------	--	----------------------------------

The Transitive Verb wan

The transitive verb wan means 'unite'.

jan pali pi ma ali o wan e ona.!		Proletarians of all countries, unite!
----------------------------------	--	---------------------------------------

The Noun tu

The noun tu means 'duo' or 'pair'.

tu pi ona en sina pi kalama musi li ' pona.		Your music duo is good.
---	--	-------------------------

The Transitive Verb tu

o tu e palisa ni.		Split this stick.
-------------------	--	-------------------

The Transitive Verb nanpa

ona li nanpa e jan.		He counts people.
---------------------	--	-------------------

Time Specifications

Tenses can be formed with auxiliary verbs.

mi kama sona e ni.		I'm learning this.
mi open sona e ni.		I begin to understand this.
mi awen sona e ni.		I remember this.
mi pini sona e ni.		I forgot this.

Tenses can also be formed with adverbs.

mi sona kama e ni.		I'm learning this.
--------------------	--	--------------------

mi sona kama e ni.		I know how to get there.
--------------------	--	--------------------------

The time can also be specified as a prepositional object after preposition lon. After preposition lon follows of course a noun.

mi sona e ni, lon kama.		I'll know this.
-------------------------	--	-----------------

ni li lon kama.		It exists in the future.
-----------------	--	--------------------------

However on both preposition lon and on the intransitive verb lon location specifications also are possible. For distinction time specifications with noun tenpo and adjectives are formed.

mi sona e ni, lon tenpo kama.		I'll know this.
mi lon tenpo ni.		I exist now.
ni li moku pi tenpo pini.		That's old food.

Here are further examples of time specifications.

tenpo suli		long time
tenpo lili		soon, moment, briefly
tenpo mute		often (many times)
tenpo sin		again, afresh
tenpo ali		always, all the time
tenpo ala		never
tenpo ni		now, the present

tenpo kama	the future (coming time)
tenpo kama lili	soon (little coming time)
tenpo pini	the past (past time)
tenpo pini lili	just recently
tenpo suno	day
tenpo suno mute	many days
tenpo suno ni	today
tenpo suno kama	tomorrow

tenpo sike mun nanpa luka tu	July
tenpo sike mun nanpa luka tu wan	August
tenpo sike mun nanpa luka tu tu	September
tenpo sike mun nanpa luka luka	October
tenpo sike mun nanpa luka luka wan	November
tenpo sike mun nanpa luka luka tu	December
tenpo seli lili	springtime
tenpo seli	summer
tenpo pi kasi loje (jelo)	autumn, fall
tenpo lete	winter
tenpo telo	rainy season
tenpo telo ala	dry period
tenpo sike	year

weka sina li ' ike, tawa mi.	Your absence is not good to me.
------------------------------	---------------------------------

The Adjective weka

jan weka li kama.	The absentee is coming.
-------------------	-------------------------

The Transitive Verb weka

o weka e len sina.		Remove your clothes.
o weka e jan lili, tan ni.		Remove the kid from here

The Adverb weka

mi tawa weka e mi.		I'm moving away.

The Noun esun

mi nanpa e mani mi, lon esun suli.		I count my money at a supermarket.
------------------------------------	--	------------------------------------

The Adjective esun

meli esun li pana e pan, tawa mi.		The salesgirl gives me the bread.
-----------------------------------	--	-----------------------------------

The Transitive Verb esun

o esun ala e ilo moli!		Don't trade in guns!

1.20 Conditional Sentences

Vocabulary

ante la ...	noun : if difference, if variance, if disagreement
ike la ...	noun : if negativity, if badness, if evil
ken la ...	noun : if possibility, if ability, if permission
kin la ...	noun : if reality, if fact kipisi	noun (unofficial): section, fragment, slice
kipisi (e ...)	verb transitive (unofficial): to cut
... la ...	separator : A 'la' is between a conditional phrases and the main sentence. Don't use "la" before or after the other separators "e", "li", "pi", ".", "!", "?", ":", ",", ".
pona la ...	noun : if good, if simplicity, if positivity
sama la ...	noun : in case of equality, if parity, on identity

Conditional Phrases

With the help of the separator la a conditional sentence is formed. In front of the separator la there is the conditional phrase. This is the condition. In the English language, a condition is formed using the word 'if'. In Toki Pona the separator la serves for this purpose. After la a complete main sentence begins.

Conditional phrases with a noun or pronoun

A conditional phrase can have different structures. In the simplest case, a conditional phrase consists of a single word. This single word can only be a noun or pronoun. So if there is only one word slot before la it can only be filled with a noun or pronoun.

ilo li ' pakala.	The tool is broken.
ken la ilo li ' pakala.	Maybe the tool is broken.

The noun ken means 'possibility'. ken la therefore means 'If there is a possibility' or better 'Maybe'.

ken la jan Lisa li jo e ona.	Maybe Lisa has it.
ken la ona li lape.	Maybe he's asleep.
ken la mi ken tawa ma Elopa.	Maybe I can go to Europe.

Here are further examples, each with one noun as a conditional phrase.

ante la ni li ' ike.	In case of deviations it is unfavorable.
ike la sina moku e ni.	In case of nausea swallow this.
pona la sina jo e mani.	Fortunately, you have money.
tenpo la mi pali e ni.	If there's time, I'll do it.

taso ni la mi pilin pona.	But when that happens, I feel good.
---------------------------	-------------------------------------

Composite Noun or Pronouns as Conditional Phrases

A conditional phrase can be also a composite noun or Pronoun. That is, the noun or pronoun followed by one or more adjectives or pi phrases. Optionally, a conjunct (anu, en, taso) can be used before the noun or pronoun.

Typical examples of this are time specifications. Time specifications as a conditional phrase define the time in which the statement of the main record takes place. Literally translated, it would mean something like this: 'If time... is, then happens...'.

tenpo pini la mi ' weka.	In the past, I was away.
tenpo ni la mi lon.	At this time, I am here.
tenpo kama la mi lape.	In the future, I'll sleep.
taso tenpo pimeja pini la mi kama nasa.	But, Last night, I became drunk.

With a question pronoun seme in a conditional-phrase it is possible to ask for age.

tenpo pi mute seme la sina sike e suno?	How old are you?
---	------------------

Birthdays come once a year, and each time you have a birthday, you have gone around the sun one complete time. To answer and tell someone how old you are, just replace the pi mute seme with your age.

tenpo tu tu la mi sike e suno.	Four times (la) I circled the sun.
--------------------------------	---

Here are further examples of compound nouns or pronouns as conditional phrases. The first word in the conditional phrase is in each case a noun.

sama pi ni en ona la mi wile jo e ni tu.	If this and that is the same, I want both.
tawa mi la mi pilin pona.	Am I in motion, I feel good.
tan ni la mi sona e nasin.	If this is the cause, we know the solution.
lon ona la mi ken lukin e ona.	If it has suchness, we can see it.

In this example, the conditional phrase consists of a conjunction and a pronoun.

---------------------------	-------------------------------------

Here are further examples with one noun each as a conditional phrase.

ante la ni li ' ike.	In case of deviations it is unfavourable.
ike la sina moku e ni.	If you feel nauseous, swallow this.
pona la sina jo e mani.	Luckily, you have money.

Complete Sentences as Conditional Phrases

A conditional phrase can also be a complete sentence.

mama mi li ' moli la mi pilin ike.	My parents die, I feel bad.
mi lape la ali li ' pona.	When I'm asleep, everything is good.
sina moku e telo nasa la sina nasa.	If you drink beer, you'll be silly.
mi pali mute la mi pilin ike.	When I work a lot, I feel bad.

Commas together with the separator la are neither necessary nor useful.

The Question Pronoun seme as Conditional Phrase

If the question pronoun seme is used in a conditional-phrase, this means, 'Under what conditions is ... true?'.

seme la telo kama, tan sewi?	Under what conditions does it rain?
------------------------------	-------------------------------------

Several Conditional Phrases in one sentence

It is possible to use la two times in a sentence. But please not more than two.

ken la tenpo pimeja la ni li ' pona.	Maybe in the night it will be ok.
--------------------------------------	-----------------------------------

Conditional Phrases versus Prepositional Objects after the preposition lon

The (compound) noun of the prepositional object after the preposition lon can in some cases be placed before la with nearly the same meaning. This only applies to location and time specifications and if the sentence contains only one predicate phrase with only one prepositional object.

tenpo ni la mi moku e telo.	If it's now, I'll drink. / I drink now.

The following sentence has two predicate phrases, each with a prepositional object with the preposition lon. None of the prepositional objects can be moved to before the separator la without changing the statement. The respective predicate phrase would be torn.

ona li pali, lon tomo pali li moku, lon tomo moku.	He works in the office and eats in the canteen.

If the predicate is identical for all predicate phrases, prepositional objects with lon can be moved before la.

ona li moku, lon tenpo ni li moku, lon tenpo kama.	He eats now and he eats later.
tenpo ni la tenpo kama la ona li moku.	Now and later he eats.
tenpo ni en tenpo kama la ona li moku.	Now and later he eats.

The other way around it is not possible to move all possible la phrases after the preposition lon. For example, a conditional phrase before la can consist of a complete sentence with a subject and predicate(s). However, you cannot use a complete sentence as a prepositional object. In the following examples, using conditional phrases as prepositional objects with the preposition lon would be confusing.

lon ona la ni li 'pona, tawa mi.	If it exists, it's good for me.
sama ona la sina ken ante e ni.	If it's the same, you can swap it.
ken la mi tawa.	Maybe I'll go.
tawa mi la li 'pona, tawa mi.	It's good for me when I'm on the move.

Conditional Phrases versus indirect Objects after the Intransitive Verb lon

The (compound) noun of the indirect object after the intransitive verb lon can in some cases be placed before la with nearly the same meaning.

tenpo ni la mi lon.	Now I exist.

The following sentence has two predicate phrases, each with the intransitive verb lon. Since the predicate (lon) is the same for both predicate phrases, the indirect objects can be moved before la.

ona li lon tenpo ni li lon tomo ni.	He's here during this time and in this house.
tenpo ni la ona li lon tomo ni.	At this time he's in the house .
tenpo ni la tomo ni la ona li lon.	At this time and in this house he is.

The other way around it is not possible to move all possible la phrases after the intransitive verb lon. For example, a conditional phrase before la can consist of a complete sentence with a subject and predicate(s). However, you cannot use a complete sentence as an indirect object.

Conditional Phrases versus Predicate Noun lon or Predicate Adjective lon

After the separator li a predicate noun lon or a predicate adjective lon can stand also. Direct following words cannot be moved before lon because they do not form an object.

ona li ' lon ala.		It has no existence.
ona li ' lon pi nasin sewi.		It's a sacred existence.

Conditional Phrases with Spatial Nouns

If a (composite) noun of a prepositional object after the preposition lon can also be placed before la with (almost) the same meaning, then spatial nouns can also be used in a conditional phrase.

mi tawa, lon poka sina.		I'll walk beside you.
poka sina la mi tawa.		If at your side, I walk. / I'll walk beside you.

If a (compound) noun of an indirect object after the intransitive verb lon can also be placed before la with (almost) the same meaning, then location-related nouns can also be used in a conditional phrase.

tomo li lon sinpin mi.		The house is in front of me.
sinpin mi la tomo li lon.		In front of me is the house.

Miscellaneous

comparative and superlative

Now to use this concept in Toki Pona, you have to split your idea up into two separate sentences. Here's how you'd say 'Lisa is better than Susan.'

jan Lisa li ' pona mute. ...		Lisa is very good. ...
... jan Susan li ' pona lili.		... Susan is a little good.

Make sense? You say that one thing is very much of something, while you use another object as the basis for comparison and say that it's only a little bit of something.

mi ' sul'i mute. sina ' sul'i lili.		I'm bigger than you.
mi moku mute. sina moku lili.		I eat more than you.

Headlines

Headings can be incomplete sentences and do not end with a punctuation mark.

tenpo mun nanpa luka luka wan
 tenpo ni li ike kin, lon ma Tosi.
 suno li sul'i lili kin.
 telo li kama, lon sewi.
 kasi li moli.
 waso li tawa.
 tenpo seli o kama!

Is there an eclipse today?

Maybe the baby is thirsty.
 Always learn!

There was nothing in the beginning!
 Maybe I don't like the yellow-red patterned house of her and you.

If you want a gun, you want to kill people.

Weapon fools can bring bad things.

Today is Friday.

Today the pupils don't go to school.

They don't want people to destroy the environment.

They also want to be able to live in the future.

The Way of Life

The good ways are many. There are many right ways of doing things.

Change comes. Times change.

When I improve all areas of my life, I am making myself good.

Bad comes. Shit happens.

There is a time for everything. Everything in its right context.

All is good. Life is beautiful. Everything will be OK.

Different ways are good for different people.

If you give evil, you will receive evil.

Light is beside darkness. Opposites are interconnected. Yin and yang.

The appel drops not far from the tree.

Good work is most important in live. / Order is the half of the live.

Time comes – advice comes.

A blind chicken can find a corn too.

People

Love thy neighbour.

People are more important than money.

Children are innocent.

Conflict is bad.

When I forgive somebody's wrongdoings, I cleanse myself of negativity.

Gender

A woman's womb is the mother of all things.

A man's penis control him.

Women will drive men crazy.

Old love never rusts.

Wisdom

Novelty and change freshen the mind and bring insight.

A wise man is a fool. A genius thinks unconventionally.

Curiosity feeds wisdom. One learns by asking questions.

Work

Stop thinking. Do stuff.

One learns by experience.

Know thyself!

Language

communication is good.

Toki Pona is a good language.

Bad

Capitalism is negative.

A lot of possession corrupts.

All soldiers are stupid.

Ecology

Love the earth. Take care of our planet.

Health

Water is good.

Sleep and rest are good.

Energy comes from inside. Youth is all in the heart.

Positive feelings grant good health. Mind over matter.

The time heals every wounds.

A.5 Tokiponization Guidelines

To create the Toki Pona version of a foreign name, you may use the following guidelines. Also see Alphabet and sounds (Page 97) for rules on what Toki Pona syllables and words are possible. You can find a tool for transliterate of names in tokipona.net [18].

- It is always better to translate the "idea" of a foreign word before attempting to create a new phonetic transcription that may not be recognizable by everyone. (Example: Jean Chrétien, Prime Minister of Canada = jan lawa pi ma Kanata, rather than jan Kesijen)
- Use the native pronunciation as a basis, rather than the spelling.
- If more than one language is spoken locally, use the dominant one.
- If it does not belong to any one language, use an international form. (Example: Atlantik = Alansi)
- Use the colloquial pronunciation that locals actually and commonly use, rather than the "proper" or standard pronunciation. (Example: Toronto = Towano, not Tolonto)
- If a person chooses to have a Toki Pona name, he can choose whatever he wants and does not necessarily have to follow these guidelines.
- Names of nations, languages, religions have already been established. If one is missing from the official list, make a suggestion on the Toki Pona discussion list.
- If possible, find a common root between the name of the nation, the language and the people. (Example: England, English, English(wo)man = Inli)
- Cities and locations can be given a Toki Pona name, but they will only have an official name if they are internationally known.
- If full Tokiponization would compromise intelligibility, you can always leave a foreign name as is.

Syllables of Unofficial Words

- Every syllable consists of a consonant and a vowel, plus an optional n.
- The next syllable after a optional n cannot start with a n.
- The first syllable of a word does not need to begin with a consonant.
- The syllables ti and tin become si and sin.
- The consonant w cannot appear before o or u.
- The consonant j cannot appear before i.

Phonetic Guidelines

- Voiced plosives become voiceless. (Example: b = p, d = t, g = k)
- v becomes w.
- f becomes p.
- The trilled or tapped [r] of most world languages becomes l.
- The approximant r of languages like English becomes w.
- Any uvular or velar consonant becomes k, including the French or German r.
- At the end of a word, The sh sound may be converted to si. (Example: Lush = Lusi)
- The schwa can become any vowel in Toki Pona and is often influenced by neighbouring vowels for cute reduplication.
- It is better to keep the same number of syllables and drop a consonant than add a new vowel. (Example: Chuck = Sa, not Saku)
- When dealing with consonant clusters, the dominant plosive is generally kept, dropping fricatives such as [s] and laterals such as [l] first. (Example: Esperanto = Epelanto) You may also choose to keep the consonant at the head of the new syllable (Example: Atling = Alin).
- Approximants like [j] and [w] in consonant clusters can either be converted into a syllable of their own (Swe = Suwe; Pju = Piju) or dropped entirely (Swe = Se; Pju = Pu).
- In some cases, it is better to change the letter order slightly, rather than dropping a sound. (Ex: Lubnan = Lunpan, not Lupan or Lunan)
- Dental fricatives such as English th can either convert to t or s.
- The illegal syllables ti, wo and wu convert to si, o and u. (Example: Antarktika = Antasika)
- Affricates generally convert to fricatives. (Example: John = San, not Tan)
- Any nasal consonant at the end of a syllable converts to n. (Example: Fam = Pan)
- Nasal vowels (in French and Portuguese) also convert to syllable-final n.
- If necessary to preserve proper syllable structure, the consonant w or j can be inserted as a euphonic glide. (Example: Tai = Tawi; Nihon = Nijon; Eom = Ejon) It may also be possible to relocate a consonant that would have otherwise been dropped in the conversion. (Example: Monkeal = Monkela, not Monkeja; Euska = Esuka)
- Voiceless lateral consonants convert to s.
- If necessary, you may want to tweak a word to avoid a potentially misleading homonym. (Example: Allah = jan sewi Ila, not jan sewi Ala no God). If possible, use a related word in the source language rather than introducing an arbitrary change. (In Arabic, Allah actually means the God, whereas Illah means God.)

A.7 Hieroglyphs

The standard for writing texts in toki pona is the Latin alphabet. However, writing systems based on hieroglyphics were also developed. Depending on the system, the symbols represent letters, syllables or words. A system that uses a symbol for each word is sitelen pona [14]. Jonathan Gabel has developed a very nice hieroglyphic script. sitelen sitelen [2] looks similar to Mayan hieroglyphics.

Unfortunately, most of these systems has not punctuation marks or special characters. A system that also has symbols for punctuation marks is sitelen pona pi jan Makuwe [6]. This hieroglyphic script represents syllables.
